MINOR MENTIONS.

—Sheridan makes photographs.
—For SALE—A fresh milk cow with calf.
—The water pipes were being laid along Seventeenth street yesterday.
—A new lot of baby carriages at J. Mueller's. Prices low.
—Store and dwelling for sale by Herzman.
—Herzman is bound to close out.
—Any person finding a bunch of keys will please leave the same at THE BEE office.

—The daughters of Rebecca, of Omaha, visited the lodge here this evening to join in the installation of officers.
—Great bargains in all goods at Herzman's.

—Joseph Reiter makes suits in the latest styles at 310 Broadway.

—Permit to enter the state of matrimony was yesterday given to Dr. J. E. Russell, of this city, and Miss Hattie W. Webster, of Omaha.

—Tom Ryan and Frank Williams, Sunday drunks, were yesterday disposed of by Judge Aylesworth with the usual fine of $7.00.

—Fine line of men's, boys' and side saddles at Sherman's, 124 S. Main.

—Millinery goods fifty cents on the dollar at Herzman's.

—The heavy rains continue to wash out roads and sidewalk grades. Every day increases the number and necessity of improvements and repairs.

—W. H. Hewitt, of Marion, Iowa, whose death by drowning was given in yesterday's BEE, was in this city for a day previous to crossing to Omaha, where he met with death.

—One worthy colored citizen is anxious to hunt for the whereabouts of a fourteen year old daughter, who is no wayward as to be quartered somewhere in the city with some "low white trash."

—The inmates of Stella Long's ladies' boarding house were yesterday brought into court and fined $12 each. The landlady claimed to be too ill to appear.

—As will be seen by another column, Sullivan & Fitzgerald are agents for a number of steamship companies, and those planning to cross the water or send for friends should consult them.

—Col Orr was in the city yesterday and sold 181 bags, receiving therefor the snug little sum of $4,000, the price being $7.65. The bags averaged very heavy, as the figures show.

—Z. T. Lindsey & Co., the wide-awake shoe men, are giving the public some of the benefit of their correspondence. A letter published in another column will be found decidedly interesting and should be read by all.

—The sound of the Blue Jay's voice is hushed and the doors of the cage have been closed by execution. It is understood that other parties are preparing to open it about the first of next month. If so it is to be hoped that there will be a change in favor of decency and order, as well as a change in owners.

—A three-year-old named Jimmie Jackson yesterday caused a big scare in the family by getting hold of a bottle of belladonna pills and dosing himself. The prompt giving of remedies prevented any serious results from the supposed poisoning.

—It is arranged that the change in the postoffice here will take place next Sunday morning, Phil Armour, the newly appointed postmaster, then going into office and Mrs. Baldwin retiring. It is understood that Charles Zimmer, of the present clerical force, will be made assistant postmaster.

—The infant son of Joseph C. and Alice M. James died yesterday morning of cholera infantum. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence, corner of Ninth street and Sixteenth avenue.

—Another case of small pox was reported yesterday on Lower Broadway and removed to the pest house. The disease has been very carefully handled here by the authorities, and the policy pursued promises to keep the disease hanging on to the community all summer, with the prospect of gathering in a big harvest next winter. The quarantines have been very loose, and the precautions against a spread of the disease have amounted to little.

—Those who ride sometimes act as if pedestrians had no rights which they were bound to respect, and especially during wet weather. A fair instance occurred Sunday near the postoffice, when a lady, neatly arrayed and en route for church had her dress about ruined by a man carelessly driving his horse into a big mud puddle, splashing dirty water all over her. The lady turned about disgusted and started for home again to repair damages.

—Two boys, ragged and unkempt, and not over twelve or thirteen years of age, were yesterday brought to this city by Officer Tom Hardin, of Avoca, and lodged in jail preparatory to being sent to the reform school. The boys have been hanging about Avoca for about six weeks, part of the time in jail, and part of the time stealing and begging a living. The boys claim to be orphans, and give a very mixed-up account of their comings and goings. They were turned in among the older boys at the jail, who had much merit with the youths during the afternoon. They gave their names as August Bernice and John Artz.

—A gentleman from Kansas is in the city looking about for a location in which to open an undertaking establishment.

—"Coyote Bill," the ingenious prisoner at the jail who busies himself with braiding bridle, has just put a specimen of his work in Sherman's harness store, where it attracts attention by its novelty and many good qualities.

KNIGHTLY GREETING

It is Extended to All in Iowa to Rally Here in October.

The committees of the Knights of Pythias are making extensive and careful arrangements for the meeting of the grand lodge in October, expecting to make it the most enjoyable and successful gathering ever held in this city. At the last meeting of the committee the following invitation was decided upon, and it will soon be scattered among the lodges of the state:

OFFICE OF EX. COMMITTEE, K. of P. of COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA.
To the Officers and Members of Grand Lodge, Representatives of the K. of P. of Iowa, Grand, Subordinate, and Council Lodges:—The grand lodge of our order will convene in this city on the fourth Wednesday in October, 1882, and it is earnestly hoped that we shall have the undivided efforts of every member of the order in the state to make it a grand success. The four lodges here—St. Albans No. 17, Council Bluffs No. 49, Gethse No. 51 and Concordia No. 52—have united in their efforts to make this affair interesting to the grand lodge officers and representatives, and to all knights who may visit us during the session. It will be seen by referring to the list of committees that no pains will be spared by us to receive and entertain our knightly guests. Hotel accommodations are ample. Railroad facilities are superior to any part of the state, connecting with and running directly into all parts of our state and our country at large, and reduced rates of fare will be obtained from both railroads and hotels.

Our city has splendid parks and drives, the terminus of the Union Pacific and all Iowa roads centering here. We have various other points of interest, the state deaf and dumb institute, large Union elevator, stock yards, passenger depot at transfer, etc. We are also but three miles from Omaha, for which point trains leave every hour.

We shall be pleased to receive any suggestions that representatives and others may see fit to offer which may tend to make our success sure. Hoping as many divisions of the uniform rank as can, will come and participate in the parade, and also that all members will try and be with us on the occasion. A full and complete programme, etc., will be forwarded as soon as compiled.

All communications may be addressed to Edwin J. Abbott, Secretary Executive Committee, Council Bluffs, Iowa, which will receive prompt attention. And we request that each lodge acknowledge receipt of this circular, and that all divisions of Uniform Knights who anticipate coming will inform us, so that arrangements may be made.

With best wishes for the prosperity of our beloved Order all over the state, we Brothers of the western lodge tender you a Knightly Greeting in F. C. and B. EDWIN J. ABBOTT, Pres. Ex. Committee.

SWEDISH WAR

A Free-For-All Fight Which Resulted in Broken Heads and Closed Peepers.

Among those who were at the beer garden Sunday night was a company of Swedes, who got very mellow, and about midnight got inspired to a fighting point. The row opened at the garden, and was continued along Broadway, until it ripened into a sort of free-for-all, in which there were lively and telling blows. The details of the affair are related in very contradictory ways by the several participants who were in a condition to render them very ill-fitted to make careful observations of the event, but the record was kept in the form of bruises and cuts. Jasper Hanson was one of the worse punished of the party, he having the worse pair of eyes ever introduced in the police court. Both peepers were completely closed, and the nose puffed up, face battered and bruised, while collar and shirt-sleeve have still further proof of the bloody conflict. W. Lantrop, known as "Suede Bill," was another participant, he having been hit over the head with a pop-bottle, making some ugly gashes, from which the blood flowed freely. C. Christianson and M. Hansen were also in the row, and the quartet will have a hearing to-day, if they are able to appear.

PERSONAL

J. A. Hamilton, a prominent grain dealer at Avoca, spent Sunday in this city.

Jacob Williams, of Omaha, was greeting his old friends on this side yesterday.

Miss Bertina C. Mueller starts this morning for Leadville, Colorado, to visit her aunt, Mrs. S. J. Hanna. Mr. Hanna, who is well known here, is a land receiver in Colorado.

Col. Dailey has gone to Dakota for a few weeks to look after landed interests there.

Robert Newcomb, Esq., of New York, was yesterday registered at the Ogden.

A. G. Sessions, of Chicago, was among the arrivals at the Ogden yesterday.

George W. Ladd, of Shenandoah, was in the city yesterday.

WIDOW WAR

The Plaindealer, of Hastings, Iowa, has this little paragraph, which seems to have incited the hot ire of J. C. Morgan:

He (Anderson) was put forward by the Nonpareil outfit as a railroad candidate, and he fills the measure of their utmost demands. And now The Nonpareil crowd are laying the pipes to nominate J. C. Morgan, the editor of The Globe, (John Chapman's other paper) on the democratic ticket. Morgan is servile to railroads, as much as Anderson. He belongs to the same league and ring.

Mr. Morgan in reply denies the allegation and denies the allegation, but does not deny aspiring to nomination. He is very careful, too, how he denies being servile to railroads, saying: "I am servile to railroads just so far as legitimate advertising contracts are concerned for which I receive pay." Mr. Morgan really froths at the mouth at the above paragraph, and calls the editor "a liar, a politician and craven coward, a nincompoop and turn-coat." Oh, dear! is it possible there is going to be a duel so early in the campaign? If a little thing like this sets Morgan so wild, what would he do in a campaign after mud-throwing began in earnest? There is no prospect of his being nominated, however, unless it should be for the purpose of slaughter, and hence he isn't so much to blame for improving the only chance offered him for taking an active personal part in the campaign. The fury into which Morgan lashes himself and his open letter seem mostly to be for the purpose of telling the public that he wants the democratic nomination. The idea of his being nominated is about as ludicrous as his way of getting his desire to be before the public.

FATHERLY FAVORS

A Pest House to Be Built and Indian Creek Improved—The License Ordinance—Railway Crossings.

At a meeting of the council last night the resolution of the county board for building a pest house was concurred in, the cost to be $1,000, the county to pay two-thirds and city one-third.

The city engineer reported a plan for improving Indian Creek, the cost to be about $5,000.

An amendment was passed so amending the ordinance in regard to various licenses as to correct the errors so far discovered in the original.

The city attorney was instructed to draft ordinances requiring railways to keep flagmen at the crossings and not to obstruct street crossings by cars standing detached from an engine.

Correspondence of THE BEE.

Yesterday, July 14th inst., was a gala day for five carloads of picnicers from Omaha to Glenwood. They assembled in a beautiful grove belonging to the above asylum where all were happily engaged in various amusements for several hours. The attractions on the hill above them drew the attention of some of the enquiring minds of the amusement seekers and led them to visit the institution.

Dr. F. M. Powell, the courteous and attentive superintendent, received them kindly and showed them through the institution, explaining their plans and manner of procedure to the great satisfaction of all who accompanied him. While he was thus engaged his estimable and able wife would conduct others through the various departments and explain the many complicated conditions attending their arduous labors.

When they could not accommodate the rapid accumulation of callers their assistants were called into requisition to show the visitors through, and all appeared to leave well satisfied that they had been highly entertained. There are cases and grades of feeble-minded males and females in constant attendance to the number of over two hundred with an estimate of about four hundred in the state.

The building originally occupied as the soldiers' home is not sufficiently commodious to accommodate all the applicants, and plans have been adopted for an extensive enlargement, and the erection of workshops, in which to give employment to the able bodied children, many of whom are now employed on the farms and otherwise. There is connected with the institution, one hundred and fifty-five acres of land, composed of farm and grove. The edifice is located south of Glenwood, on a beautiful elevation of ground, with a magnificent landscape in the surroundings.

The institution is now being supported by the state except the clothing, which has to be supplied by the parents or the county in which they resided. Dr. Powell has been in charge as superintendent for about six years, and has everything very cleanly and in excellent condition.

The children include what is termed the feeble-minded, and are an intermediate class between the sound-minded and those hopelessly insane, to which the lower grades very nearly approach.

The windows and many of the doors were open and a large number of the children appeared to be amusing themselves on the outside very harmoniously. They appear to be perfectly under control, and without vicious dispositions.

The manual exercises, singing, walking, etc., all done after the sound of piano music alone, was executed, and exhibited a considerable degree of intelligence, which would lead to the thought that they would soon be sufficiently reclaimed to be released from the asylum and sent home, whilst there are others who are so mentally affected that there can be but little anticipations for their recovery.

JACOB'S JOY

Mr. Kiel Celebrates His Birthday by the Aid of His Friends.

Sunday last being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Jacob Kiel, it was observed in a very happy manner by a merry gathering of friends who met at Kiel's hotel in the evening, and kept up the jolly doings until an early hour in the morning. The company numbered about fifty, and the affair was arranged in an almost impromptu manner, it not being decided upon until a late hour in the afternoon. It was none the less enjoyable, and there was no lack in the hospitality as shown in providing for the guests. A bountiful repast was spread, and Olaf's orchestra furnished music for those who delighted in the dance. Mr. Kiel was the recipient of some beautiful and appropriate reminders of the esteem of friends, among them being an elegant gold headed cane and a valuable gold pen, pencil and telescope holder as a useful watch chain. All the incidents of the occasion were of the happy sort, which will cause all the participants to long remember it.

A Scheme for the Upper Missouri. The Helena Independent states that for some time past Mr. John H. Waters, a gentleman of ample means, has been greatly interested in the navigation of the upper Missouri river, above the falls. He reached Stubb's ferry last Thursday and came to Helena to make arrangements by mail to have his boat transported around the falls. In his opinion it only requires the expenditure of a few thousand dollars to make it navigable for small packets the greater part of every season. While in Helena he caused telegrams to be sent to Hon. Martin Maginnis by influential parties in this city, strongly urging him to secure an appropriation of $25,000 for the improvement of the upper river. Mr. Waters is prepared to put two boats upon the river at once, if any reasonable assurance can be had that this improvement will be made and other arrangements consummated in reference to the building of a railroad around the falls. Already some $20,000 has been expended by the government in improving the river between Stubb's ferry and the falls, and Major Maginnis has repeatedly assured us that this appropriation would be expended annually upon the upper river if only one boat was placed upon it. Mr. Waters proposes to obligate himself to expend $40,000 in the construction of two splendid packets, provided a company can be organized to build.

A RAILROAD AROUND THE FALLS. It is estimated that such a railroad would not exceed twenty miles in length. At a cost of $8,000 per mile, which is a liberal estimate, the entire expense of construction would not exceed $160,000. If our friends in Benton, however, desire to remain the head of navigation on the lower river, they will doubtless contribute liberally to the extension of this road from the mouth of Sun river to Benton, instead of having it terminate below the falls. This would make the road a little over forty miles in length. It would run through a section that will soon be crowded with population, and would be a paying road at all seasons of the year. Goods have been laid down at Benton this season from St. Louis at $1.40 per 100. There is no doubt that with such a road completed, Helena merchants would receive their freight from Benton at 40 cents per 100, or from St. Louis at $2.00 per 100 from St. Louis or Chicago. If a small railroad is built between Helena and Stubb's ferry, it would soon be the case after the enterprise had started, cars loaded at Benton would be run to Sun river and there placed upon packets and barges and transported to Stubb's ferry, from whence they would be drawn to Helena without breaking bulk.
